Kahn Partners Advises Eurobio Scientific on $170 Million Acquisition of CareDx's Lab Products Division

Transaction creates a global leader in transplantation genomics and marks a strategic milestone for Kahn Partners' cross-border life sciences M&A practice

LOS ANGELES, April 21, 2026 — Kahn Partners announced today that it served as lead mergers and acquisitions counsel to Eurobio Scientific (Euronext Growth Paris: ALERS) in its agreement to acquire the Lab Products division of CareDx, Inc. (Nasdaq: CDNA), a U.S.-based precision medicine company focused on transplantation. Under the terms of the agreement, Eurobio Scientific will acquire the Lab Products business in an all-cash transaction valued at $170 million.

The transaction remains subject to customary closing conditions and regulatory approvals.

The acquisition brings together two highly complementary portfolios in human leukocyte antigen (HLA) typing and transplant monitoring. The combined platform is expected to offer one of the most comprehensive portfolios in the industry, spanning pre-transplant HLA typing through post-transplant monitoring.

This highly strategic transaction for our client involves complex regulatory matters, cross-border structuring and carve-out mechanics across multiple jurisdictions. Kahn Partners is proud that Eurobio Scientific chose to work with us on a transaction that positions them as a global leader in transplantation genomics.

The Kahn Partners transaction team was led by William Kahn (Partner, Corporate / M&A), and included Zachary Kline (Counsel, Intellectual Property), Ashkon Roozbehani (Counsel, Employment and Benefits), Melanie Cristol (Counsel, Trade and Regulatory), and Ruben Gandanger (M&A Analyst).
